RIOTS AT MANCHESTER.

LONDON, Sept. 7 .- Mr. Murphy of Manchester, the noted public assailant of the Roman Catholic Church, whose violent speeches have so often been attended with rioting, has offered himself as one of the candidates to represent that city in the House of Commens. This makes the sixth candidate for Manches-On Saturday evening a meeting was called in the interest of Mr. Murphy. It is estimated that there were 6,000 persons present. Speeches were made advocating his claims, and denouncing the conduct of the magistrates toward him in the matter of the Ashton riots in May last. While the speaking was going on the meeting was attacked by a mob of Irish Catholics, who charged the platform and dispersed the speakers. A general fight ensued, which lasted nearly an hour. Clubs, stones, and other weapons were used, and many persons were badly injured. The police at last succeeded in quelling the riot and arresting several of the ring-leaders. The city was greatly excited, and there were renewals of the disorder to some extent during the night and Thirty-seven persons, arrested for taking part, on both sides, in the riots of Saturday or Sunday, were brought before the Police Magistrates to-day, and after a short preliminary investigation, remanded for further examination.

Excitement still runs high and a renewal of the disturbances is feared. Every precaution is being taken by the authorities to preserve order.

THE TIMES ON AMERICA AND MEXICO The Times, in its city article to-day, says that the annexation of Mexico to the United States is desirable, but the time is not yet ripe. That object could not be accomplished now without a needless cost of money and blood.

THE DAILY NEWS ON MINISTER JOHNSON-DR. BELLOWS ON THE IRISH CHURCH QUESTION.

The Daily News, commenting on the mission of the new American Minister, Mr. Johnson, says difficult questions are to be treated; but England has given abundant proof of her good faith. In sending Mr. Johnson to this country the United States Government avows its desire to settle pending disputes, and such disposition is the best guarantee that the negotiations will be brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

The Rev. Dr. Bellows of New-York has written a letter to The London Times on the Irish Church question. He says: The disestablishment of the Irish Church is a measure of even more importance to the foreign relations than to the internal interest of Great Britain. The establishment of this reform would be a great step toward the removal of those grievances which serve so powerfully to influence the feelings of the Irish in America against the Brit-ish Government, and which, while they continue to exist, make war, provoked by the persistent efforts of the Irish leaders, at any time possible between England and America.

THE CASE AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT-SPEECH OF THE MARQUIS OF HARTINGTON.

The Marquis of Hartington, who addressed his constituents at Preston on the 24th of August, stated the case of the Liberal party against the Government Contrasting the comparative merits of the past and Contrasting the comparative merits of the past and present administrations, he argued that Lord Stanley had only carried out with segacity and exactness the policy of non-intervention which was urged upon him by public spinion; that the conduct of Mr. Walpole, at the time of the Hyde Park riots, was sufficient to bring condemnation on the Government; that the expenditure, under the conservative administration, was extravagant; and that they had never succeeded in conducting and leading the Heuse of Commons in a proper and consistuational way. He afterward criticised the remarks of Col. Patten at Lancaster, and pointed out that that gentleman had at they had never succeeded in conducting and leading the Hense of Commons in a proper and constitutional way. He afterward criticised the remarks of Col. Patten at Lancaster, and pointed out that that gentleman had at length expressed his determination to maintain the establishment in Ireland. The Marquis said that no British subjects had a right to insist on an assendant charch unless the Parliament and the country were agreed that it was for the advantage of the country, and contended that the grievances of Ireland should be looked at from an Irish and not from an Imperial point of view. He declared himself in favor both of the disestablishment and disendedment of the Irish Church, and maintained that was no measure of spoliation, but that the State had a right to take all the chdownents of the Irish Church and devote them as it thought best to the welfare and benefit of Church and State in England, and thought that consection would be best preserved by disestablishing the Church in Ireland. In reply to questions, he stated that he was in favor of old people of 50 years of age and upward being allowed to live together in workhouses, that he would not pledge himself as to what he would do with the Irish Church property when it was disendowed; that he proposed to leave Ireland without a State Church of any kind; that he was in favor of granting protection to the funds of trades and other societies; that he was in favor of on amendment of the hwas to contracts be tween masters and servants; that he thought the law of conspiracy should apply equally to masters and work men; that he was in favor of courts of countracts be tween masters and servants; that he thought the law of conspiracy should apply equally to masters and work men; that he was in favor of courts of couplination and arbitration; that he did not think the expenditure of the country could be reduced to 50,000,000.

Mr. David Woods, an elector, sent the following questions, he stacked:

The Marquis of Hartington, in replying, said—I do approve of Mr. Gl is no doubt that it has at present a money value. A man who is the patron of a living can sell it for a certain sum, and surely when you are compensating every other interest it would be unjust to deprive the patrons of Church livings of their interest without making them any compensation. But I will add this, that property in Church patronage is of so peculiar a description that any person holding right opinions upon such matters would. I think, be very doubtful about accepting any such compensation, except for the purpose of bestowing whatever sum it might be for the benefit of the Church to which he belongs. As to the second question, I cannot tell Mr. Woods what is the pecuniary value of the Duke of Devonshire's Irish Church patronage, but I have no doubt it is something considerable. With regard to the third question, I cannot say that I am aware that he performs any public service in consideration of those tithes any more than he does in consideration of the rest of his property, but what I do say is, that those tithes are just as much a portion of his property as any one of his estates. Those tithes were not given to him or his ancestors for any service performed to the Irish Church, but they were bought by one of his ancestors, and are as much his property as any portion of the remainder of his property. The next question is, "Will vote for the disendedwinent of private persons of the Church lands and tithes which they hold, and to which no public duties are attached?" That is to say, will I vote for taking away those tithes from private persons who are now in receipt of them I will not vote for anything of the kind. Those tithes are in a different position from the revenues of the Church. They were sold to certain persons—the ancestors or predecessors of those persons who now hold them. To take away those tithes would be nothing but sheer robbery—just as much as it would be rothing but sheer robbery—just as much as it would be rothing but sheer robbery—just as much as it would be rothing but sheer robb

He remarked that so much attention had lately been paid to spectrum analysis that it was hoped it would be possible to arrive at some knowledge of the constitution of the sun or its atmosphere, or of both, and much anxiety was felt to know whether anything had been remarked with regard to certain red protuberances on the sun when eclipsed. These, in fact, formed the main subject of observation, and he had the satisfaction to receive that morning from Dr. Jansson, who was at the head of the expedition which had been sent out to India from Paris, the following telegram: "Aug. 21, 1868. Eclipse. Observed protuberances. Spectrum very remarkable and unexpected. Protuberances of a gaseous nature."

THE COLUMBUS OF TROUVILLE.

M. Alexandre Dumas, sen., writes as follows from Trouville: "Trouville has become the fashionable sea bathing place. It has beaten Dieppe, Havre, Etretat, and Viller, and rivals Blarritz. I ought to be prood of this success, for the town is my America, and I have this in common with Columbus, that I have not given my name to my discovery. That event happened in 1881. The place was then at the end of the world; three days were required to reach it; and it was the Stetimus hie landem of the Parisian tourist. One day a commercial traveler appeared there, another day an artist. Neither history not legend has preserved the name of the former, and the remembrance of the latter is only due to its owner's celebrity. He was the idealist Paul Huet, who contends in every exhibition with the realist Courbet. I was the third voyager who approached the locality. From the Trouville which I found in 1831 to that of to-day there is the difference between the Otahelic of Bougainville and that of Dupetit-Thouars. When I first went there the village contained 15 or 20 ishlermen's huts, a dozen thatched cottages, a population of 150 souls, and a single tim, the Auberge de la Plage. At present there are 1.000 houses, 5,000 inhabitants at ordinary times, and 15,000 daring the bathing season, with 25 hotels, some of them palaces. In 1831 people walked about in sint-sleeves or blouses, sometimes even still less clad. The Pesth Naplo declares that it had for some time past been informed of the conspiracy, but had not thought right to publish the facts. As, however, the affair is made public, it rectified the account given by saying that the anonymous communication was sent to M. Demokos, deputy, and contained the name of the intended assassin. The residence of the person indicated having been searched, papers were discovered which led to his arrest. The Naplo adds that the whole affair is without importance, as the accused is a student of heated imagination."

THE KU-KLUX KLAN.

MURDERS NEAR BOWLING GREEN-ARSON IN SHAKER SETTLEMENT-A WARNING.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Sept. 7 .- The murderous rebels of the Ku-Klux Klan are more active, defiant, and aggressive in this part of the State than ever before. In many cases they have ceased to threaten and entered upon the work of murder outright, boldly entering the houses of citizens who were Union men during the war, and who are suspected of entertaining Republican feelings now, and murdering them in cold blood. On Saturday night they surrounded Glasgow Williams's house, and as would not obey their summons they forced an entrance and killed him in presence of his wife, while she was on her knees, begging them to spare his life. Mr. Williams was a Union soldier during the war, and had proclaimed his intention to vote for his old Commander. After the disguised ontlaws had murdered him, still thirsting for Union blood, they went to the cabin of an inoffensive negro who had also served in the Union army, and taking him out, hanged him under a tree until he was dead. On Friday night the same miscreants made an attack upon a settlement of Shakers, and wreaked their vengeance by burning to the ground their large mill and woolen factory. These Shakers, it need not be added, are an inoffensive community, who have always been loyal to the Government. The Rebel Democracy have resolved, if possible, to expel them from Kentucky soil. Their loss by this diabolical incendiarism is over $250,000. The Ku-Klux Klan have warned all citizens in this part of Kentucky who were in the Union army that they must quit the State, the penalty of remaining until the day of election being death.

A POLICE OUTRAGE IN PITTSBURGH.

In Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening, Mrs. Dake, wife of Dr. B. Dake, was arrested at the instigation of a ruffian to whom she had given a rebuff. The officer who made the arrest actually fastened his from on her wrists, and dragged her to the Police Station. Mayor Blackburn, who happened to be in the station, release Mrs. Dake, and ordered that the officer and her accuss be imprisoned. The arrest was speedly noised abroad and all Pittsburgh was soon in a ferment. Policeme Mrs. Date, and ordered that the other and held accessed be imprisoned. The arrest was speedily noised abroad, and all Pittsburgh was soon in a ferment. Policemen were assaulted, and the public indignation was outspoken. A crowd which besieged the Mayor's office on Sunday morning was andressed by His Hener, who dismissed the policeman, and held to bail the rufflan who caused Mrs. Dake's arrest.

TRIAL OF JAMES WHALEN.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 .- The trial of James Whalen for the murder of the Hon. T. D. McGco was begun this morning, before Chief-Justice Richards. The court was densely crowded and much excitement was manifested in the city. James O'Reilly of the Queen's Court appeared for the Crown, and Mesers. J. H. Cameron, Kenneth McKenzie and M. C. Cameron for the defense, assisted by M. O. Farrel of Quebec. The prisoner was pale and nervous but answered boldly to his name. After the jury had been sworn, Mr. O'Reilly spened the case, remarking that the Crown expected to prove murder, planned by a band of conspirators in Montreal, and that planned by a band of conspirators in Montreal, and that the prisoner was the instrument chosen to commit the murder. He detailed the facts of the case. The defensemade no opening speech. Many witnesses were examined for the Crown. The most important testimeny is that of Lacrox, who swore that he saw Whalen shoot McGee. The other testiment is circumstantial, and differs in no maternal degree from that chefted at the inquest, but is very damaging to Whalen. It is said that the Crown will put a woman in the box to swear that Whalen confessed himself the murderer of Mr. McGee. The trial will occupy four or five days.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 7 .- A. A. Bradley, colored, who was expelled from the Georgia Senate, held a Republican meeting this evening. He said that Clift, and other carpet-baggers and Yankees, are not to be trusted and advised the negroes not to trust the white people, especially the Yankees, "the meanest people on earth." especially the Yankees, "the meanest people on earth."

Even the mulattees could not be trusted, as the white blood in their veins might gain the mastery. The recent action of the Georgia Legislature in turning out the negroes would increase the majority for Grant. At first he thought the negro members would draw revolvers and assert their rights in blood, which would have benefited the Democrats. He was glad to know that they had done otherwise. He thought the coming election, whichever way it might go, would cause blood-shed. The whole speech was rambling and contradictory, many hearers being doubtful which side the speaker supported. He spoke nearly the whole evening.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

ATLANTA, Sept. 7 .- The Senate to-day, by 20 to 15, refused to reconsider the Relief bill passed last week. A resolution was offered declaring Senators Campbell and Wallace, negroes, not eligible to seats. Mr. Highee (Republican) read a resolution passed heretofore under General Order No. 90, and insisted that it took a two-third vote to bring this matter up. The Chair decided that a two-th-rd vote is necessary. Mr. Holcomb ap-pealed from the decision. The appeal was sustained by 24 to 8, and the resolution was made the special order for Erday next.

Friday next.

The House, by 69 to 42, passed a resolution to elect a Board of Commissioners to appeant officers of the State Bailroad. The Senate sustained the Governor's veto of the Savannah bill—Yeas 18, Nays 18. To-day is the last day for registration.

LOUISIANA LEGISLATURE.

New-Orleans, Sept. 7.—The House on Saturday passed a bill vosting the entire control of the New-Orleans public schools in a Board of Sixteen Directors, to be appointed by the Governor, and confirmed by the Senale. This will probably kill the Conway bill. A bill was introduced prohibiting the opening of the public schools for the present. It was piaced on the calendar for future action. The schools opened to-day, and with the former regulations in force. The registration bill has finally passed.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 7.—A bill was introduced in the Senate to day to suppress insurrection and rebellion. It gives the Governor dictatorial powers.

The New-York Sun, which is perhaps, the fairest minded Democratic paper in the city, can't stand Frank Blair. This is its last comment upon Frank's

Gen. Frank Blair has written to a man down South to say that some contemptible carpet bag editor has slandered him. "I have never made," says the General, dered him. "I have never made," says the General, "any such statement as he attributes to me. On the contrary, I am for that policy which alone can give peace to the country."

This is published as a corrective for the effect of the celebrated Broadhead letter, but it hardly seems to cover celebrated Broadhead letter, but it hardly seems to cover the case. In that letter Gen. Blair said: "There is but the case. In that letter Gen. Blair said: "There is but the case. In that letter deen lear that the Constitution, one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare these acts and that is for the President elect to declare these acts and that is for the President elect to declare these acts and that is for the President elect to declare these acts and that is for the President elect to declare these acts and that is for the President elect to declare these acts and the South. disperse the carpet-hag State Governments allow the white people to reorganize their own Governments, and elect Semators and Representatives. The Honse of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North, and they will admit the Representatives elected by the white people of the South, and with the cooperation of the President, it will not be difficult to compet the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the Constitution."

It is not enough, in view of this letter, for Gen. Blair to declare that he is for a polley of peace. Dispersing the existing State Governments of the South by avrined force is not peace. Setting aside State Constitutions and the laws of the United States by lawless popular uprising, is not peace. Admitting as members of the House of Repsentatives those who have been elected contrary to law, and whom the law expressly excludes from membership, is not peace. Compolling the Senate, by the illegal use of the President's authority and of the army, to submit to these violations of the law, and to sanction them, is not peace. All these things, which Gen. Blair proposes to do and to have done, are not acts of peace but of war. The performance of the first and least of them would light the flame of fearful, bloody conflict, and for a time would reduce our country to worse anarchy than was ever witnessed in Mexico or South America. If Gen. Blair and his friends cannot see this, so much the worse for their understandings. The intelligent people of the country see it very clearly; and all the explanations and dis claimers which he may offer them will serve no purpose but to make them doubt his sincerity and question his moral courage.

THE HON. HANNIBAL HAMLIN IN LEWISTON. LEWISTON, Sept. 7.-The Hon. Hannibal Hamlin addressed a Republican mass-meeting at Auburn Hall to-night. The political excitement is daily increasing, and the vote in this part of the State will be the largest ever polled.

A Washington correspondent, writing the 6th of September, says:

A prominent gentleman, who has just returned here from Maine, says that the best informed Democrats concede that the Republicans will carry that State by at least 20,000 majority. Among those who express this opinion freely is Sunset Cox, who has been actively engaged in stumping the State for the Democrats. Mr. Cox, in conversation with this gentleman, said: "I tell you, Sir, it is no use shutting our eyest o plain facts. The popular enthusiasm for Grant is irresistible; he will sweep everything before him."

Carl Schurz arrived here by boat from New-York this afterdoon, and was received by the German Reception Committee, head by their Chairman, Gen. John Meredith Read, jr., President of the Republican Committee. Gen. Schurz was escorted from the Delevan House to Tweddle Hall by a company of horse, under direction of the German Committee, headed by Col. Friedlander and the Republican General Committee, followed by 2,000 uniformed torchmen and a great number of citizens. Broadway and State st. were lined with people, waving handkerchiefs and exhibiting unbounded enthusiasm. The im, mense multitude was called to order by Gen. John Meredith Read, jr., who nominated Arthur Bott, esq., to be President, with a long list of Vice-Presidents and Secretaries. After a few eloquent words of thanks in English, Gen. Schurz delivered a thrilling and convincing address in German, which was repeatedly interrupted by ap-plause. The Hon. Henry Smith also addressed the meeting impressively, and the Hos. Emery A. Storrs of Chicago, gave a vivid and cheering review of the campaign in Maine. A banquet was afterward given to Gen. Schurz

TRENTON, Sept. 7 .- Taylor's beautiful hall was filled to overflowing this evening by the friends and supporters of Grant and Colfax. Full 5,000 people were within the walls. The occasion of the gathering was the ratification of the nomination not only of Grant and Col-Rushing as Representative in Congress. The stage was draped with American flags, and tiny standards floated from the galleries. On the platform were John Reebling, esq., the Hon. E. D. Culver, C. C. Havens, esq., T. J. Striker, esq., Col. Cooke, Dr. Freese, and many other distinguished citizens of Trenton. The Hon. H. N. Conger presided, and, in a few well-timed remarks, introduced the Hon. John I. Blair, the Republican candidate for Governor of New-Jersey. The next Governor, advancing, was received with cheers. He remarked that he had not come to make a speech, but to ratify the nomination of his friend Geo. Rusling. The Governor's brief speech was greeted with thunders of applause. After Gov. Blair had resumed his seat Mr. Conger introduced Gen. Rusling, and that gentleman advanced under a storm of applause. He began by calling attention to the fact that Theodore F. Randolph, the would-be Governor of New-Jersey, had remarked that there would be a Rusling among the dry bones in the next Congress. He believed that there would be a Rusling among the dry Bones if they would stand by the nomination. I Laughter and cheering.] The General spoke upward of two hours on the issues of the campaiga, and was listened to with narked attention. The financial question was thoroughly reviewed and the main question, Grant or Seymour, was fairly placed before the addience. The platforms of both parties were criticized and explained. This fight, said the distinguished speaker, is not for ourselves. No, there is a grander thought than that; it is a struggle for liberty and freedom all over the world. At the close of the General's speech, the audience arose, and with cheering from the men and waving of handlerchiefs from the from the gaileries. On the platform were John Roebling, liberty and freedom all over the word. At the close the General's speech, the audience arose, and with cheering from the men and waving of handkerchiefs from the ladies, the assemblage proclaimed for Grant and Colfax Riair and Rusling. Mr. Conger now introduced the Hor. E. D. Culver of New York, saying: "The audience witremember that Mr. Culver is from the Empire State, and remember that Mr. Curver is from the Empire State, and four sister did give us Horatio Seymour, sho also gave us fire New-York Taibuxe." [Cheers] Mr. Culver, it a humorous vein, spoke for an hour, and his remarks were received with prolonged laughter and applianse. THE WIGWAM DEDICATION AT NEWARK - TEN

THOUSAND PERSONS OUT.

The dedication at the new Republican Wigwam at Newark, last evening, was a grand affair, and was the occasion of a great outpouring on the part of the people, which was entirely unlooked for on the part of the Committee having the matter in charge. The wigwam is on Broad-st., near its intersection with Fulton having entrances on both the streets named, and is about having entrances on both the streets named, and is about 50 by 150 feet. The platform is on the south side of the building. facing the Fulton-st. entrance. Immediately in front of the speakers' stands is a baleony, which it is intended to reserve for ladies. The wigwam was completed yesterday moon, and preparations for the dedication were immediately commenced. Every pillar in the structure was decorated with small flags, hearing the names of Grant and Colfax. The other decorations consisted of tri-colored balls, stars, and transparencies. Over the Broad-st. entrance, on the river side, was a banner bearing the telling inscription, "Vermont, 27,000 majority. Hel hel he". In the casteriy end of the building was a large banner, on which the names of the candidates for President, vice-President, and Governor of New-Jersey were inscribed. The speakers' stand was neatly decorated with the American colors. The wigwam was lighted by more than 30 gas-jets, which added greatly to the effect of the display. Scarcely had darkness set in before the streets were througed with people, some hurrying to secure scats in the wigwam, others to join in the grand forchight parade of the Grant Legions, while others assembled on the street corners to witness the display. Fully 16,000 people turned out, and the enthusiasm was unbounded. The various legions, including the cavalry company, formed in line along Military Park, and to the number of about 2,000 paraded the streets amid the cheers of those gathered in one vast crowd along the walks. But the great feature of the evening's display was at the Wigwam. Long before the hour of opening arrived, the crowd began to assemble, and poured in one continuous stream into the structure (which seats 3,000 persons) until there was scarcely breathing room, much less standing accommodation. Scated before the platform were at least five hundred ladies. The assess were completely packed, and the crowd began to assemble, and poured in one continuous stream into the structure (which seats 3,000 per 50 by 150 feet. The platform is on the south side of the building, facing the Fulton-st. entrance.

THE PATERSON, N. J., "VETERAN TANNERS."

The "Veteran Tanners," as announced in yesterday's TRIBUNE, have a real, not a prospective organization. The membership is already large. Never organization. Even the firemen have caught the enthusiasin, and propose to organize a Firemen's Club. One company of "Veteran Tanners" was organized last evening, and the roll is open for another.

THE LOUISIANA CONTESTED ELECTIONS. A bit of comfort for Frank Blair and his partner's "friends" will be found in the report of the committee on the Contested Election in the Parish of Franklin, offered on the 29th of last month. Their report says that "intimidation, fraud, and violence were used in the parish," that" more than two-thirds of the newly in the parish," that "more than two-thirds of the newly enfranchised voters refrained from voting," and that "the affidavits made by the Democrata as rebutting evidence and sworn to before the Clerk of the Court of said Parish, and the scal of said Court is one unknown in any other portion of the State, said seat being that of the so-called Confederale States, with the Confederale flag in the center." Is it not time that Tammany documents bere the same stamp? Nothing like keeping up old acquaint-snees.

3. That no such disabilities exist by the so-called State Constitution of 1868, under which it is claimed that the State has been reconstructed and restored to the Union.
